Excerpt: . . . 15 Over the course of these initiatives, DOE and the Part-nerships are addressing key infrastructure issues related to permitting, pore space ownership, site access, liability, public outreach, and education. We are also jointly devel-oping Best Practice Manuals on topics such as site charac-terization, site construction, operations, monitoring, miti-gation, closure, and long-term stewardship. These manuals will serve as guidelines for a future geologic sequestration industry in their regions, and help transfer the lessons learned from DOEs Program to all regional stakeholders. Finally, DOE and the Partnerships continue to work closely with the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and other federal and state agencies in developing CCS regulatory strategies, which will provide additional cer-tainty for future CCS deployments. DEMONSTRATIONS AT COMMERCIAL SCALE-The success of the Clean Coal Program will ultimately be judged by the extent to which emerging technologies get deployed in domestic and international marketplaces. Both technical and financial...
