Anil this is far from being a singular observation. 6th. An habitual disposedness unto, and practice of, religious conversation, is another material branch of the christians duty. I mean, to employ the noble faculty of speech in a manner becoming reason and religion. The mouth of the righteous speaketh wisdom, and his tongue talketh of judgment. The law of God is in his heart. Particularly, we should abstain from hurtful converse; such as reflects upon the honour of the blessed God, or tends to lessen mens regard to him; such as defiles and corrupts the mind; injures the reputation of those that are absent, or provokes and insults thdse that are present; or is merely idle, empty, and vain; in a word, whatsoever is contrary to the laws of charity, religion, or chastity, should be banished from our lips. But then, we must aim...
